Teachers should give all students exemption forms if they are exempt from their final tests.

Testing time and procedures are very important. Please do not give advance exams.

All students will stay with assigned test group during the entire testing period.

Students may check out with properly signed notes or phone call from parents if they do not have any exams remaining on their schedule for that day. Students will not be allowed to call parents to leave.

Students should pay all school fees prior to the first exam, including lunch, library, workbook money, etc.

Reviews for next day's test are available and students required to take those test should stay for those review periods.

If you miss a test or are late for a test be prepared to take that test during a review period, or a testing period you are exempt from.
